

Leading the way to your Digital Transformation

Digital Transformation and Cloud is what we know and it's who we are. Formed in 2010, we have seen the ever growing benefits of technology across the public sector. Our mission is to help clients get clarity on their Digital Transformation and/or what cloud means for them and their organisation; differentiating between cloud that is just an illusion and that which brings true transformational value.

Our company was formed from a genuine belief and passion for the opportunity that cloud offers. We work with our clients and partners in turning cloud to their advantage.

Our products and services have been designed to swiftly inform, confidently plan, and deliver tangible and lasting difference, whilst ensuring that you are in control throughout. Whilst we maintain certifications and active partnerships in the main cloud provider platforms, we remain agnostic as a consultancy – ensuring our advice best meets your unique needs.

"It's great working with an SME that can take the time to understand the NHS, can take the time to understand the locality, and so for us it was really about that service we got. They took time to understand us and actually tune their output to what we needed as well so with bigger companies you find a one size fits all model, it really wasn't that - it was about the service we needed."

Power without control is nothing. Our technical knowledge and understanding of all the features within the Microsoft Azure platform counts for nothing if it is not aligned to a deep understanding of our clients needs and challenges. Our team includes ex-CIO's from Healthcare and Local Regional Government as well as Programme Managers and Enterprise Architects to ensure that we deliver outputs and outcomes.

We pride ourselves on being:

- Agnostic; ensuring the right solution for you.
- Operationally experienced; provide pragmatic advice and designs.
- Specialists; from security to data to cloud – we ensure you get the best.
- Strategic; they look at the whole picture and ensure your solutions will last.
- Engaging & Relational; they simplify the complex and connect the dots.
